

IMR Doctoral Conference 2011

Call for Submissions

IIMB Management Review (IMR) is organising the third annual Doctoral Students' Conference (IMRDC) in management studies on November 11 and 12, 2011 at IIM Bangalore. We invite paper submissions from doctoral students from institutions in India with doctoral programmes. The submissions will be reviewed by a Faculty Committee and a maximum of twelve papers will be short listed for presentation and discussion at the conference where insightful feedback on the papers will be provided.

Among these twelve papers, three best papers will be selected and recognised with the following awards (in alphabetical order): Dipak C. Jain Award, Pradip N. Khandwalla Award and Marti G. Subrahmanyam Award. The academicians after whom the prizes are named will play an active role in the final selection of the prize winning papers.

IMR initiated and instituted the country's first annual doctoral students' conference for management scholars in 2009. IMRDC aims to bring together, annually, a select group of doctoral students affiliated to institutions across India for an event of paper presentations, discussions, and publication-oriented development. We believe that this is an exciting opportunity for doctoral students in management and look forward to your participation.
